In his first season with the Black & Gold, Nancy led the team to win the 2023 MLS Cup in a 2-1 victory over LAFC on December 9. In the same season, Nancy was a finalist to the 2023 Sigi Schmid MLS Coach of the Year award.

Previously, Nancy served as head coach for CF Montreal during the 2021 and 2022 seasons. In 2022, Nancy led Montreal to a club-best, regular-season record of 20-9-5. Nancy finished second in voting for the 2022 MLS Sigi Schmid Coach of the Year award, just one-tenth of a percentage point behind Philadelphia Union's Jim Curtin.

In 2011, Nancy joined Montreal's Academy and over the course of 10 years, held head coaching roles for the U-18s (2011-13), the U-21s (2014), and the U-16s (2014-15) before being elevated to First Team assistant in January of 2016, a role he held until being promoted to head coach. He holds USSF Pro, UEFA A and Canadian Soccer Association A licenses. In 2014, he obtained the Elite Formation Coaching License (EFCL) diploma.

Born in France, Nancy had a professional playing career that spanned 10 years. From 1995-2005, the defender represented French clubs Sporting Club Toulon, Beaucairois, Raon-l'Etape, Ivry, Noisy-le-Sec, Châtellerauld and Orleans.

CONCACAF CHAMPIONS CUP

SEMIFINALS

After winning the third MLS Cup in club history, the Columbus Crew qualified to compete in the 2024 Concacaf Champions Cup.

As the 2023 league champions, the Crew earned a bye in Round One and Houston Dynamo FC in the Round of 16. The Crew's first match was away on Wednesday, March 6 (0-1 W) and the second leg was played on Tuesday, March 12 (1-1 T), which marked the first Concacaf Champions Cup game played at Lower.com Field. The Crew advanced to the Quarterfinals to take on Tigres UANL of Liga MX. In the first leg of the series, the Crew earned a 1-1 result at Lower.com Field. The Crew earned a 1-1 (4-3) penalty shootout win against Tigres UANL Tuesday night in the second leg at the Estadio Universitario in San Nicolás de los Garza, Mexico. The Black & Gold now advance to the Concacaf Champions Cup Semifinals for the first time in Club history, facing off against CF Monterrey. The first leg will be held at Lower.com Field on Wednesday, April 24 at 8:15 p.m. ET. The second leg of the series will be played at 10:15 p.m. ET on Wednesday, May 1 at the Estadio BBVA in Guadalupe, Nuevo León, Mexico.

What is Concacaf Champions Cup?

The Concacaf Champions Cup is the tournament that determines the best club in North America. This competition combines clubs from all over North America, Central America and the Caribbean into one event. Beginning in February and ending June 2, this tournament will be played in addition to league campaigns.

Sides from the United States, Canada, and Mexico will compete in the Concacaf Champions Cup, as well as teams in Costa Rica, Jamaica, Panama and more.

The Concacaf Champions Cup format

Concacaf Champions Cup is composed of five rounds: Round One, Round of 16, Quarterfinals, Semifinals and the Final. The first four stages of the competition have home and away legs – the Crew is guaranteed a home match at Lower.com Field in every round until the Final. The final will be a single-elimination championship match.

Twenty-seven teams will participate in Concacaf Champions Cup and 22 of them play in Round One. As noted, Columbus automatically secured a spot in the Round of 16 as the MLS Cup champion and took on Houston Dynamo FC.

The tournament uses a ranking system to place teams in their respective matches. As for Crew, the side is ranked No. 8 – the second-highest rating of an MLS team. The Philadelphia Union holds the fifth seed. Club América, who the Crew beat at Lower.com Field last summer in Leagues Cup, holds the top ranking in Concacaf Champions Cup.

What's at stake

The 2024 Concacaf Champions Cup winner will secure the fourth and final spot to represent the continent in the 2025 FIFA Club World Cup. The Champions League winners from 2021 (CF Monterrey), 2022 (Seattle Sounders FC) and 2023 (Club Leon) will also participate in the 2025 FIFA Club World Cup.

The Crew's Concacaf Champions Cup history

This marks the fifth time the Black & Gold have competed in the continental tournament. The Club last participated in 2021 on the heels of the 2020 MLS Cup title. In 2021, Columbus reached the competition's quarterfinals after playing a couple of matches at Historic Crew Stadium. Of course, this means the 2023 cup run will be the first time the Concacaf Champions Cup is played at Lower.com Field.

Columbus has reached the quarterfinals on four occasions, including in 2003, 2009-10, 2010-11 and 2021. Edson Buddle and Steven Lenhart are the club's all-time leading scorers in the competition with four goals each. Emmanuel Ekpo has made the most tournament appearances with 14.

Best Result: Semifinals (2024).

Debut: 2003 (Quarterfinals).

Record in the Concacaf Champions Cup: GP-28 W-11 D-8 L-9 (37 GF - 38 GA).
